Partnership

- KDE created Summer Reading Kentucky Website
- KDE will publish articles and send information to schools about Summer Reading
- KDE will include KDLA in planning for adoption of Lexile measures from Metamatrix
- KDLA will provide training to Children's Librarians on using Lexiles

Lexile Measure

- What is a Lexile measure?
 - Created by MetaMetrics
<http://www.lexile.com/>
 - Two kinds of Lexile measures
 - Lexile reader measure: Students receive a Lexile reader measure as a score from a reading test - it describes his or her reading ability.
 - Lexile text measure: Books and other texts receive a Lexile text measure from a software tool called the Lexile Analyzer - it describes the book's reading demand or difficulty.

Quick Facts

- Range: 50 above/100 below
- Some parents will know their child's Lexile measure
- Find-a-Book gives guidance for those who don't know their Lexile measure
- Text has a Lexile measure
- Search Lexile database, KYVL databases, or use Text Analyzer
- Interest and age-appropriateness can trump reading measures
