History

In 1971 legislation was passed to eliminate the discrimination in lending practices. The Fair Credit and Reporting Act (FCRA) started a push for a more standardized system, but many lenders were failing to come up with accurate predictions because their equations were still factoring in things like age, gender and race.

Fair Issac Corporation (FICO) developed the FICO score in 1980’s while working with Equifax and began comparing a person’s use of credit and repayment history to better determine an unbiased, quick way to assess a person’s credit worthiness

Score is a predictor of how likely you’ll be able to make payments on lines of credit given to you over a 24 month period of time
Credit Report

- Personal information
- Status of Accounts
- Default Accounts
- Public Records
- Inquires

Credit score - Based on the information in your credit report

Between 300 – 850 with anything over 750 being considered good credit

Difference between score and report

Working to improve score

Get score

- Important if you plan on applying for a big loan (mortgage, car, etc.)
- Costs money, but you can get it through credit monitoring programs for free
- Credit score estimate sites
Get report

Fair Credit and Reporting Act - 3 credit reports per year

Avoid imposters (they won’t call to ask for personal information, send email solicitations or use pop up ads) safest way is through FTC.gov

Check for mistakes

- Under the FCRA, you can dispute not just inaccuracies, but incompleteness. So if a report accurately indicates you were sued by a creditor, but does not reflect an eventual completed payment which you are no longer liable for then you can dispute the incomplete nature of the entry

Evidence of stability, that if not included, you can request to be added

- Employment – current and previous
- Residence – current and previous
- Date of birth/social security number

- Options to dispute on-line, but if you have documentation (paid statement, letter, etc) then it needs to be by mail – make copies
- If investigation shows that disputed information is inaccurate or unverifiable then info must be deleted or modified
- Investigation process must be free to consumers because of FCRA
Credit score make-up

- Payment history (35%)
- Credit Utilization (30%)
- Credit History (15%)
- New credit (10%)
- Type of credit (10%)

Debt snowball

Credit card rules

- Interest rate changes
- Due date
- Highest interest rates paid first
- Limiting credit to young adults
- Opt out on over the limit spending

Savings account or money market account

Cosigner/guarantors

The Kentucky Employee Assistance Program (KEAP) is dedicated to helping employees find solutions to the personal problems that may hinder their effectiveness at work.

Problems concerning marital, family, or emotional distress, alcoholism and drug abuse, financial or even medical issues can seriously diminish an individual's job performance. In addition, regardless of position or seniority, many employees encounter workplace difficulties that create excessive job stress which can affect their physical and emotional health. As a progressive employer the Commonwealth of Kentucky recognizes that there are positive, workable solutions to many of these problems that trouble employees.

State employees and their dependents are eligible for KEAP services. There is no cost for its information or referral services. All of your contact with KEAP is confidential as required by state and federal law. Employee involvement with KEAP is permitted on state time with the supervisor's prior approval. Supervisors may refer employees to KEAP when job performance deteriorates, however participation is voluntary.

KEAP Services

- Assessment: Each person seeking assistance will receive a confidential assessment with a trained EAP professional. The purpose of the assessment is to clearly identify the problem. The assessment may be conducted face-to-face or by telephone.
- Referral: Once a thorough assessment is conducted the EAP professional may make a referral to the most appropriate professional or resource and provide assistance in making contact with those resources.
- Follow-up: After making the referral, the EAP professional maintains intermittent contact with the employee to ensure that the process has gone smoothly and the needed services are being provided.
- Crisis Intervention: When critical incidents or workplace trauma occur, the EAP can provide crisis response. Crisis debriefings provide individuals with information about possible reactions that may follow a critical incident. A structured environment allows individuals to discuss their thoughts and reactions to the incident.
- Grief Response: When death affects a workgroup, KEAP is available to provide grief response groups.
- Management Consultation: Supervisors may consult with EAP professionals for guidance regarding employees and difficult workplace situations.
- Education: KEAP staff members are available for staff development training opportunities.

If you or your dependents could benefit from this assessment and referral service, call the KEAP office for more information. In Frankfort call 502-564-5788, or use the toll-free 1-800-445-KEAP number from anywhere in the state. Kentucky State Police also have an Employee Assistance Program. They can be reached at 502-573-1719.
