Records Retention Schedule

Prepared by the State Records Branch

Approved by the State Libraries, Archives, and Records Commission

GENERAL SCHEDULE FOR STATE AGENCIES

The General Schedule for State Agencies (General Schedule) covers retention and disposal of records that are common to all or most of Kentucky's state government agencies. Government records in Kentucky cannot be disposed of unless they are approved for destruction by the State Archives and Records Commission (the Commission). The General Schedule is reviewed and approved by the Commission and serves as notice to state agencies that staff may destroy the records listed here after the appropriate retention periods have passed.

The General Schedule has four sections:

- Fiscal Records;
- Miscellaneous Records;
- Personnel and Payroll Records; and
- Electronic and Related Records.

It must be used by state agencies that participate in and use the state's uniform financial system (enhanced Management Administrative Reporting System [eMARS]), and its personnel system (the Uniform Personnel and Payroll System [UPPS]). Agencies that do not utilize the uniform systems should contact the State Records Branch, Archives and Records Management Division, for guidance in disposing of financial and personnel/payroll records. The Miscellaneous Section of the General Schedule is applicable to all state agencies, including those that do not use the Fiscal and Personnel and Payroll Sections.

While the General Schedule applies to records that are created, used and maintained by staff at all or most state agencies, agency-specific retention schedules apply to records that are created only by a particular state agency, or to records that a state agency is required to retain longer than the approved time period on the General Schedule. The General Schedule along with a Commission-approved agency-specific retention schedule should cover all records for a given state agency.

Electronic Records

The widespread use of computers and computer systems raises the question of how government agencies should apply records management standards to electronic records and electronic record-keeping systems. Kentucky law defines public records, in part, as "documentary materials, regardless of physical form or characteristics, which are prepared, owned, used, in the possession of or retained by a public agency" (KRS 171.410[1]). This means that electronic records fall under the definition of public records. Records management standards and principles apply to all forms of recorded information, from creation to final disposition, regardless of the medium in which the records are created and/or stored.

All state government personnel who develop, use and maintain electronic records and computer systems should be aware that existing retention schedules must be implemented for the electronic records systems used in their agencies. Ideally, records retention scheduling should be a part of the development, implementation and management of computer systems. Records management practices encourage cost-effective use of those systems through accurate retention scheduling and legal destruction of records. Office personnel should be trained to use this schedule for determining the minimum time that records must be kept to satisfy the administrative, fiscal and legal needs of the agency.

Remember, all state government employees are responsible for maintaining the integrity of records whether those records are stored electronically or in hard copy. Information must be accessible to the appropriate parties until all of the legal, fiscal, and administrative retention periods have been met, regardless of the medium.

Copies of Records

Agency staff often make copies of records for internal use or reference purposes. Agencies should designate one copy of agency-produced records as the official copy and make sure it is retained according to a State-Archives-and-Records-Commission-approved records retention schedule. Agencies can destroy all other copies when they are no longer useful.

An Explanation of Selected General Records

The explanations and definitions provided below are designed to assist in the implementation of the General Schedule.

Correspondence

Official Correspondence (M0001) is a permanent record that documents the major activities, functions and programs of an agency and the important events in its history. It is critical that official correspondence be preserved as it provides a record of policy evolution and formulation, how and why decisions are made, and the effect of those decisions upon an agency and its constituencies. Without official correspondence, we lose much of the understanding of the administration of an organization. Its retention, therefore, is crucial to the preservation of the administrative history of an agency. Official correspondence must be transferred to the State Archives per instructions in the General Schedule for State Agencies – Miscellaneous Records. Examples of Official Correspondence include policy memoranda dictating or establishing policy, directives, event and other announcements maintained by the issuing agency, official notifications of agency decisions or actions, or summaries of an agency's cumulative experience or history.

Routine Correspondence (M0002) is correspondence that is not crucial to the preservation of the administrative history of the agency. It is generally of a non-policy nature and without permanent value. It deals only with the general agency operations, operations which are better documented by other records maintained by the agency. Examples of Routine Correspondence include assistance to clients, explanations of policy, requests for information, or business-related discussions within an agency.

Routine Correspondence also includes messages that are related to agency business, and support its work, but are not central or essential to it. Examples of this include listserv messages relevant to agency business, correspondence related to relevant professional organizations, event and other announcements received by non-issuing agencies, copies of messages (Cc or Bcc), voice mail, or meeting notices (for the recipient).

Routine correspondence should be retained no longer than two years. Because the retention period of Routine Correspondence may vary, agencies are encouraged to set a fixed period for its retention and see that staff retains it for that length of time.

Nonbusiness Related Correspondence (M0050) is correspondence that is not relevant to the conduct of agency business. Examples of Non-Business Related Correspondence include spam or junk mail, personal messages, or unsolicited messages from coworkers such as jokes, news reports or announcements. Non-business Related Correspondence should be deleted or destroyed immediately.

E-mail is generally used for routine and nonbusiness related correspondence, and may be used for official correspondence. This allows for wider distribution of messages than had previously been possible. The retention periods listed on the General Schedule apply equally to all correspondence, whether e-mail or paper. Please remember that the above types of correspondence may apply differently depending on whether a staff member is the sender or the recipient. A message from the Governor to all state employees might be maintained as Official Correspondence by the Governor's Office. That same piece of correspondence would be Routine Correspondence for most state employees. In lengthy, business-related e-mail discussions involving a number of agency staff, you may keep a copy if: (1) you add anything of value to the discussion or contribute beyond simply agreeing or disagreeing; or (2) you were the last person to add anything of value to the discussion, in which case you should keep the entire thread.

Publications and Reports

A state agency publication or report is any published material, regardless of format, that documents agency-related functions or activities, but does not include material issued for internal administrative use. Publications and reports contain important facts and statistics about the operation of the agency and its policies and are retained permanently because they provide information, often in summarized form, which aids in understanding the administrative functioning of the agency.

Three copies of all agency publications issued in paper must be forwarded to the Archives and Records Management Division when issued, as required in KRS 171.500 and by 725 KAR 1:040. One copy of each publication issued in electronic format must be forwarded to the Archives and Records Management Division. One copy of each publication, regardless of format, should be kept permanently in the agency. Under no circumstances should all copies of publications be destroyed.

Special Studies and Reports not formally published also contain important facts and statistics about the organization, policies, and operation of the agency. One copy of each study or report (M0042) must be forwarded to the State Archives, per normal transfer procedures, and one copy should be retained permanently in the agency.

Minutes of Meetings

Minutes of meetings constitute proper documentation of essential agency transactions and organizational functions, as required in KRS 171.640.

Boards, commissions, councils, task forces, etc., that were established by statute or Executive Order, or that establish or administer policy are examples of entities for which minutes should be created. One copy of each set of minutes (M0008) should be retained permanently in the agency and one copy should be forwarded to the State Archives after each meeting, as specified in the General Schedule for State Agencies – Miscellaneous Records.

Recordings of meetings (M0049) from which minutes are prepared are retained for 30 days after the minutes have been transcribed and approved by the appropriate authority.

Fiscal Records

Summary records which provide a general picture of the fiscal operations of an agency must be kept permanently. Examples include: annual financial reports, operating budgets, audit reports, and some journals and ledgers.

Original and duplicate copies of source documents should be maintained as specified in the Fiscal Records Section of the General Schedule.

enhanced Management Administrative Reporting System (eMARS) Source Documentation

As recommended by the Finance and Administration Cabinet and approved by the State Archives and Records Commission, eMARS source documentation for expenditures is to be retained by state agencies for eight years beyond the year in which the transaction was initiated. The majority of eMARS-related records can be found in the Fiscal Section of the General Schedule. The retention and maintenance of original source documentation by state agencies began with the implementation of MARS July 1, 1999.

The eight-year retention period is necessary to ensure the following:

- records are available to support transactions through two administrations;
- all audits and investigations relating to the transactions have been completed;
- source documentation is available during the preparation of state budgets;
- agencies are in compliance with all state and federal retention requirements;
- investigations of potential fraudulent transactions have been concluded;
- information is available to document judgments and claims;
- information is available for tax purposes; and

- information is available in the event of legal action.

Personnel Records

Departmental copies of personnel files (P0001) may be destroyed five years after termination of employment in the agency. Termination of employment is defined as “no longer an employee of state government.” If an individual transfers from one department to another, the personnel file will transfer as well to the new department. The master personnel file, or record copy, is retained by the Personnel Cabinet.

Unit duplicates of personnel files may be destroyed two years after termination of employment. All personnel files should be maintained as specified in the Personnel and Payroll Records Section of the General Schedule.

Informational and Reference Materials

Informational and reference materials (M0018) are aids of a technical or non-technical nature used in the conduct of official business, but not essential to that business. The disposition for such materials is “destroy when no longer useful” to the receiving unit. Examples of informational and reference materials may include externally created brochures and publications, duplicate copies of memoranda which do not require action by the receiving unit, literature not related to day-to-day activities, and some tracking tools, such as logs.

Archives and Records Management Division Forms

All Archives and Records Management Division publications and forms should be maintained as specified in the Miscellaneous Records Section of the General Schedule.

Records Retention and Disposition Terminology Used in the Schedule

Permanent Records

These are records which have been appraised by staff of the Department for Libraries and Archives and the agency's Records Officer, and approved by the Commission, as having sufficient historical, informational, or evidential value to warrant their continued preservation beyond the time they are needed for administrative, legal, or fiscal purposes. Such records are preserved because they constitute evidence of an agency's functions, policies, decisions, procedures, and operations. Generally, permanent records comprise 5% or less of an agency's total records.

Fixed Retention Records

These are records with specific, fixed, retention periods, such as three years, six months, fifty years. The duration of a record's administrative, fiscal, or legal value is defined by both agency use and state and federal requirements. Recommended retention periods are determined by KDLA staff and by an agency's Records Officer during the scheduling process and are fixed and authorized when approved by the Commission. To realize economic benefits, agencies should destroy non-permanent records when retention periods expire, unless an audit or some legal action is pending.

Indefinite Records

The term “indefinite” is not a retention period and does not mean permanent. Indefinite means the period of time before the retention of the record begins. For example, the retention of the departmental copy of personnel records is five years, but the retention does not begin until the individual’s employment with the agency is terminated. In this case, the indefinite period is the time between creation of the record and termination of employment, which triggers the five year retention period. In the case of reference and informational material, the retention is determined by when the records cease to have value administratively, which could be one day, one month, or several years. The disposition instructions in the General Schedule explain the conditions under which indefinite records may be destroyed.

Auditable Records

Agency records that are subject to audit relate to financial transactions or represent an audit trail. Audits may be fiscal, procedural or compliance in nature. When the word “audit” appears in the disposition column of the records retention schedule, it refers to state, federal, or internal agency fiscal, procedural or compliance audits.

Unless otherwise supported by Kentucky Revised Statutes or federal regulations specifying a longer period, the retention requirement for records subject to audit, as approved by the Auditor of Public Accounts, generally is three years. If an agency is aware of the need to maintain records longer than the standard three year period, as may be the case with some federal audits, then all affected records should be retained until the audit has been completed and the retention period met. In no case should records which have been identified as subject to audit be destroyed until the audit has been completed and retention periods met, or the records have been officially exempt from any audit requirements. If an agency’s fiscal records have not been audited, the audit for the appropriate fiscal year is considered closed upon release of Single Statewide Audit of Kentucky (SSWAK) by the Auditor of Public Accounts for that fiscal year.

Vital Records

Vital records are defined as those records that are essential to the continued functioning of an agency during and after an emergency, as well as those records that are essential to the protection of the rights and interests of an agency and of the individuals for whose rights and interests it has a responsibility. Vital records are identified in the retention schedule with a (V) and, generally, comprise less than 5% of an agency’s total records.

Confidential Records

While all records created by a public agency, using public funds and public employees in carrying out its official business, are public records, not all of those records are open to public inspection. Whether a record is open to public inspection is a matter determined by the application of the state’s Open Records laws and other relevant state or federal statutes and regulations. Public inspection of confidential records is restricted.

Agency records that are considered to be confidential and to which a claim of restricted access can be supported by a proper citation from Kentucky Revised Statutes, Administrative Regulations, Code of Federal Regulations, or similar authority are identified in the retention schedule with a (C), plus the accompanying legal citation that restricts access.

Participating agencies are guided by a Pre-Audit Delegation Agreement executed between the agency head and the Secretary of the Finance and Administration Cabinet. Only agencies that do not have the technical capability for electronic workflow are exempted from the pre-audit delegation. Previously, many transactions required some form of central approval from the Division of Statewide Accounting, Finance and Administration Cabinet, or the Governors Office for Policy and Management; with pre-audit delegation that is no longer required. Pre-audit delegation requires agency approval for transactions that were previously routed to the Finance and Administration Cabinet. eMARS is an enterprise-wide system that is designed to, among other things, reduce duplicate data entry and reconciliation between systems. M0022	Annual or Summary Reports	This series functions as a comprehensive summary of agency activities, services, and results of the past year. Staff report initiatives, objectives, changes in responsibilities, or accomplishments to convey the mission of the agency. Summary reports condense the main points of programs or projects in the agency. The reports are usually published and are for general public distribution. M0032	State Records Retention Schedule	This series documents the basis for an agencys records management program. A records retention schedule identifies the records that are created and maintained by an agency. It provides the minimum timeframes the records must be retained and includes instructions for their disposition. When approved by the State Archives and Records Commission (KRS 171.420), the schedule becomes binding upon the agency and provides clear legal authority to destroy public records. In addition, the schedule identifies records that are vital to the continued operations of an agency and those whose access is restricted by law or regulation. It is the primary tool for an agencys management of its records. A schedule is inclusive of all records that are specific to an agency and provides accountability for their creation and maintenance. In the absence of an approved schedule, the agency does not have the legal authority to destroy public records and can incur liabilities if it does. Contents Series contains: Agency name; schedule date; signature page; record status-indefinite, permanent, vital, confidential, or electronic; record title and description; series number; retention period at agency; retention period at the State Archives or State Records Center; disposition Retention and Disposition Maintain current version of the schedule in agency. The transmittal is completed by the agencys records officer and specifies the records that are being transferred by series number, title and date span. It provides the agency with an index to the records that have been transferred and provides specific information as to the location of the records in the State Archives Center, should their retrieval be necessary. Unless restricted, records housed in the State Archives are available for research by the public, through the Archives Research Room. Contents Series contains: Cabinet/local jurisdiction; department/local government office; division; branch/unit; retention schedule date; total containers; permanent; destruction date (none); accession number; compiler; date; shelver; volume; location in center; box, roll, book, bundle, other; series number; title of record; date span of record; access restricted/statute; signature/date of records officer; continuation page (if applicable). The transmittal is completed by the agency's records officer and specifies the records that are being transferred by series number, title and date span. It provides the agency with an index to the records that have been transferred and provides specific information as to the location of the records in the State Records Center. Records that are transferred to the State Records Center are generally administrative in nature and are still needed for the conduct of agency business. M0035	Microfilm Quality Evaluation Form	This series documents the quality control process used to determine whether microfilm produced either by the Archives and Records Management Division, private certified vendors, or state and local government agencies has met quality control requirements and archival standards as set forth by the Department for Libraries and Archives. The form provides for the destruction of the hard copy records, providing all requirements and standards have been met. It is used to advise agencies that the records can be destroyed or that they must be retained, due to the film not having met all requirements. If the film passes all requirements and the hard copy is destroyed, it then becomes the original record and is used in lieu of the paper records. The silver master of all film where the retention of the record is seven years or greater must be stored in the Division's vault, as security backup to the records. Contents Series contains: Agency; unit; date; roll number; schedule date; series number; title of records on schedule; inclusive dates; test roll number; density; resolution; reduction ratio; targets; security copy stored at Archives and Records Management Division; tested by; date; records destruction approved/disapproved; signature of agency records officer; signature of State Archivist; comments Retention and Disposition Retain permanently in agency.

The series identifies the records being destroyed, the date span and amount, usually expressed in cubic feet, and the method of destruction. Records officers are responsible for ensuring that destruction requirements established by the Department are appropriately carried out by their agencies. The series documents that retention schedules are being implemented and that records that have ceased to have value are disposed of. The timely destruction of records whose retention periods have been met result in a savings to government. Agencies can incur liabilities if records are destroyed that have not had a retention period approved for them by the State Archives and Records Commission. Contents Series contains: Planned destruction date; administrative units; schedule date; date of destruction; accession number; series number; title; security microfilm; confidential records; date span; cubic feet/rolls; unit number; location at state facility; signature of records officer Retention and Disposition Retain permanently in agency.

STATE AGENCY RECORDS RETENTION SCHEDULE

General Schedule for State Agencies Miscellaneous Records

Series	Records Title and Description	Function and Use
M0049	Recordings of Meetings (V)	This series documents the mechanical recording of meetings of boards, commissions, task forces that were established by statute or executive order, or other entities that establish or administer policy, and from which minutes of the meetings are prepared. Contents Series contains recordings in either audio or video format Retention and Disposition Destroy thirty (30) days after minutes have been transcribed and approved, unless challenged. If minutes are challenged, recordings should be retained until final resolution.
M0050	Non Business-Related Correspondence/ Messages	This series represents email and other correspondence that is commonly found at all levels of an organization and is not related to agency business. It consists of messages of a purely personal nature, spam, and other unsolicited correspondence. (See contents for more detailed descriptions.) Agency staff should delete these records upon receipt because they are not business-related, and because agencies may be required to produce them under legal orders or open records requests. This type of correspondence is problematic for many reasons: Spam and unsolicited messages (1) tend to exist in tremendous quantities, which can overwhelm an email system; (2) are usually unwanted; (3) can be offensive; and (4) are potentially virus laden. Personal messages (1) take away from an employees work time; (2) may be interspersed with business related e-mail, making management difficult and exposing the agency to potential embarrassment and legal risk; and (3) may be a violation of the states e-mail and Internet acceptable use policy (see CIO-060, Internet and Electronic Mail Acceptable Use Policy). Given the nature of e-mail, the existence of this type of correspondence is inevitable and agencies are encouraged to train employees to delete it as soon as possible. See "Guidelines for Managing Email in Kentucky Government" for more information on managing email correspondence. Contents Non-business related correspondence is incoming and outgoing correspondence that may consist of: Personal messages - All agencies should have an appropriate use policy that determines the amount of personal messages acceptable on the system. (See Internet and Electronic Mail Acceptable Use Policy, CIO-060) Spam is the term for electronic junk mail. It is completely unsolicited and unwanted. Spam mail can be offensive in nature, can carry viruses and is sent as a way of disrupting normal business operations.Unsolicited messages are email that may be unwanted, but is somewhat business related such as advertising from vendors and non-work related e-mail from coworkers such as jokes and forwards, miscellaneous news articles, non-work related announcements, etc. Retention and Disposition Delete or destroy all non-business related correspondence/messages immediately. Agencies are encouraged to train all employees with e-mail access to use the system properly for work-related activities and to remove all non-business-related records immediately.

General Schedule for State Agencies Miscellaneous Records

Series	Records Title and Description	Function and Use
M0052	Surveillance Video/Audio Recordings	This record series is used to document the activities in public areas of state government facilities. State agencies may contract with private companies to provide surveillance services, in which case the agency would still be responsible for maintaining the recordings. The cameras usually run 24 hours a day and record all activities in specific areas. These cameras or recording devices may be located in areas such as lobbies, kitchens, control rooms, libraries, hallways, entrances to government buildings, state government offices and anywhere the public has access. These recordings are used as a security measure in the identification of persons who cause disturbances or violate laws. This series does not apply to inmate intake or booking videos at law enforcement or correctional facilities. Contents Video of a certain area of the facility or the outside of the facility. Retention and Disposition Destroy or re-use after seven (7) days. If any investigation, litigation, or open records request involving these recordings is taking place or is pending, the recordings should be maintained until all investigative or legal activity is completed.
M0053	Electronic Messages	This series encompasses any communication using an electronic messaging system for the conduct of agency business. Electronic messaging systems manage and facilitate the sending and receiving of electronic messages with associated attachments and may also allow for calendaring and scheduling of appointments. These systems have become an increasingly important and common communication tool for public agencies. Unified messaging systems allow for a common user in-box for email, voicemail, and text messages allowing users to manage all three from a single point. Use of mobile technologies such as RIMs Blackberry, Personal Digital Assistants (PDA), and web-enabled cell phones enable users to access messages outside of the office setting. Electronic messaging systems such as a listserv allow for broad distribution of messages sent to a single address to multiple recipients. With the ability to attach files to electronic messages, electronic messaging systems have transitioned from simple messaging systems to repositories of public records. Most electronic messages have very limited value and can be deleted immediately upon receipt, but some document agency functions and provide evidence of agency business. The dynamic and often informal nature of electronic messages, coupled with the ease with which electronic messages can be sent and received, can lead to personal and other non-business related messages being mixed with business related messages. Electronic messages should be managed and retained in a manner that protects the integrity of the records and allows for the efficient management of the records over the prescribed retention period. Contents Electronic messages are any message sent or received by an electronic messaging system. Electronic messages may be in the form of electronic mail (email); text messages (such as on a Blackberry or other portable device); voicemail messages (in a voicemail box on a phone, or as an audio file in a unified messaging environment); or faxed messages (faxes are electronically transmitted with a paper output, or may be maintained electronically as an electronic fax.) In addition to the body of the message, text-based messaging systems (email, text messages, faxes and voicemail through a unified system) contain transactional information (sender, recipient, date, subject, etc.) in the header of the message and in the properties field of the electronic file. Email messages may also include attached files. Retention and Disposition Electronic messaging systems are a form of communication. The messages found in these systems can be any type of record. Identify what type of record the message is and delete after the expiration of the retention period authorized in an approved records retention schedule.

Electronic System With Included Records Series

Personnel Cabinet

Department of Human Resources Administration

System Description: The Kentucky Human Resources Information System (KHRIS) is the Personnel Cabinet's integrated human resources system that supports the human resources (HR) processes managed by the Personnel Cabinet. This system integrated several separate legacy systems into one solution for the Commonwealth. The new system is configured with specific modules that support specific areas of the HR process. Those areas include: Organizational Management (OM), Personnel Administration (PA) Benefits Administration (BN), Benefits Accounting (BNA/FSCD/Biller Direct), Time Management™, Payroll (PY), Employee Self-Service/Manager Self-Service (ESS/MSS), Image Connect (KHRIS's web app for FileNet), and the KY Employees' Suggestion System (KESS).

System Contents: Group Life Insurance: The Commonwealth of Kentucky provides Basic Life Insurance and Accidental Death and Dismemberment Insurance to the employees and retirees returned to full-time employment of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, local school boards, and some cities and county governmental agencies via the Benefits specific applications in KHRIS, Benefits Administration (BN) and Benefits Accounting (BNA/FSCD/Biller Direct). However, KHRIS is an integrated solution and the benefits modules are integrated with other modules in KHRIS that are required for their processing of data as well. Information maintained within this module consists of current and historical life benefits elections as well as transactions related to those elections; inclusive of bills, payments, and adjustments. KHRIS, Kentucky Retirement System (KRS), Kentucky Teacher's Retirement System (KTRS), & Kentucky Department of Education (KDE) submit payment files which contain payment information for employees under each company. Personnel Cabinet staff also uses KHRIS. Additional authenticated users (Insurance Coordinators and billing contacts) access the KHRIS web application with the use of a UserID and Password.

Kentucky Employees' Suggestion System (KESS): KESS is an incentive program designed to encourage employees to share their ideas on improving productivity and the services offered by the state. KESS is a web application module within KHRIS' web portal which allows merit employees to submit suggestions online to be considered for potential awards and recognition. However, KHRIS is an integrated solution and the benefits modules are integrated with other modules in KHRIS that are required for their processing of data as well. Three groups of users access the system, employees with status in the classified service and employees governed by KRS Chapter 16, coordinators, and evaluators. Employees only have permission within the system to add suggestions. Coordinators use the system to assign suggestions to evaluators. Evaluators enter evaluation information into the database relating to suggestions assigned to them for review. The KESS module contents includes: brief description of present method/condition, projected cost savings, review assignments made by Coordinators, date received, evaluation of employee suggestion (eligibility, checklist, approved/rejected, reasons, requiring a regulatory change, legislative change, evaluated by , title, agency, data, recommended award), how the determination was made to approve or deny the suggestion and to provide supporting documentation for any monetary award provided to the employee as a result of the suggestion, awards presented; documentation of review by the employee suggestion system council; reconsideration process if requested; evidence of actual savings to support any monetary award provided to the employee.

The Organizational Management and Personnel Administration modules provide organizational structure, master records, position and title information, record analysis, position descriptions, and the processing and administration of Personal Action Notifications (PANs). KHRIS's Time Management and Payroll modules allow for time and labor entry, leave accruals, and the processing of payroll. However, KHRIS is an integrated system in which all modules are integrated with other modules in KHRIS that are required for the processing of data. Contents for these modules include:

Organizational Management (OM) – Organization Structure

Personnel Administration (PA) – Master record data, salary data, position and position description data, employee status

Time Management (TM) - Time Entry, Cost Allocation, Leave Accruals

Payroll (PY) – Gross to Net Processing, Tax compliance, Check / Deposit Processing

Employee Self-Service/Manager Self-Service (ESS/MSS) – Employee web portal, view access to payroll and time data, update personal information

Image Connect (KHRIS's web application for FileNet) – Employee personnel file images

The Kentucky Employees' Health Plan (KEHP) is a self-insured program providing health insurance benefits to the employees and retirees of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, as well as local school boards, local health departments and other quasi-governmental agencies. KEHP has more than 250,000 actively participating members. KEHP also provides Flexible Benefit Plans for state and local boards of education employees. KHRIS is the system of support for KEHP.

KHRIS supports the administration of benefits members and the processing and reconciliation of enrollment and payments for health insurance premiums, health insurance administration fees and FSA/HRA contributions via the Benefits' specific applications in KHRIS, Benefits Administration (BN) and Benefits Accounting (BNA/FSCD/Biller Direct). However, KHRIS is an integrated solution and the benefits modules are integrated with other modules in KHRIS that are required for their processing of data. Contents include: all transactions at both the policyholder and company level; inclusive of bills, payments, and adjustments. KHRIS, KRS, KTRS, & KDE submit payment files which contain payment information for employees under each company. Personnel Cabinet staff also uses KHRIS. Additional authenticated users (Insurance Coordinators and billing contacts) access the KHRIS web application with the use of a UserID and Password.
