Records Retention Schedule

Prepared by the State Records Branch
Archives and Records Management Division
Approved by the State Libraries, Archives, and Records Commission

Kentucky Department for Libraries and Archives

GLOSSARY OF TERMS For Records Retention Schedules

- Permanent (P) Denotes records appraised as having historical, informational or evidential value that warrants preserving them permanently (forever) beyond the time needed for their intended administrative, legal or fiscal functions. These records may be destroyed only after the written permission is given by the State Archivist and after they are microfilmed according to specifications published by the Department for Libraries and Archives.
- Confidential (C) Records deemed unavailable for review by the public after applying the state’s Open Records Law (KRS 61.878) and other state and federal statutes and regulations with specific restrictions. The (C) is added to appropriate record series descriptions as a reminder to agency personnel and does not bear any legal status. It is important to note that the local government head has the responsibility of knowing all the appropriate confidentiality laws, statutes and regulations that apply to the records maintained in their office and to see that they are enforced. Even though a record series may or may not be marked confidential on a records retention schedule, contradictory laws or regulations that are approved after the retention schedule has been completed may not be reflected but must be honored.
- Vital Record (V) Records that are essential to the continued functioning of the local government during and after an emergency, as well as those records that are essential to the protection of the rights and interests of that local government and of the individuals for whose rights and interests it has a responsibility. Local Government should have a plan in place to identify those records and provide for their protection in case of a disaster (fire, flood, earthquake, etc.).
- Duplicates Duplicate records that have not been assigned a retention period and function solely as reference and informational material may be destroyed when no longer useful. If the duplicate is considered the “copy of record”, it must be retained according to the retention period on the schedule.
- Destruction Certificate A destruction certificate should be used to document the destruction of public records and may be found, along with the instructions at the Kentucky Department for Libraries and Archives website (www.kdla.ky.gov). It should be used when destroying records according to the appropriate records retention schedule. No record created or maintained by a local government agency may be destroyed unless it is listed on the retention schedule and a destruction certificate completed and the original copy sent to the Department for Libraries and Archives (Department).
- After Audit A term used in the disposition instructions to denote a records series that shall only be destroyed after the retention period has expired and an official audit has been performed. Example: 3 years and audit: This means that the record series must be kept for 3 years after last activity or date in a file. The record must have gone through the annual audit before it can be destroyed.

	Retention and Disposition	Retain seven (7) years, then destroy.
L6759	Nonbusiness Related Correspondence	This record series documents paper correspondence and email that is commonly found at all levels of an organization and is not related to agency business. It consists of messages of a purely personal nature, spam, and other unsolicited correspondence. (See contents for more detailed description.) Agency staff should destroy or delete these records upon receipt because they are not business-related, and because agencies may be required to produce them under legal orders or open records requests. This type of correspondence is problematic for many reasons: SPAM and unsolicited messages (1) tend to exist in tremendous quantities, which can overwhelm an email system; (2) are usually unwanted; (3) can be offensive; and (4) are potentially virus laden. Personal messages (1) take away from an employee's work time; (2) may be interspersed with business-related email, making management difficult and exposing the agency to potential embarrassment and legal risk; and (3) may be a violation of the agency's email and Internet acceptable use policy. Given the nature of email, the existence of this type of correspondence is inevitable and agencies are encouraged to train employees to delete it as soon as possible. See "Guidelines for Managing Email in Kentucky Government" for more information on managing email correspondence.
	Access Restrictions	None
	Contents	Nonbusiness related correspondence is incoming and outgoing correspondence that may consist of: Paper records that may be personal, unsolicited and unwanted that has nothing to do with agency business. Email that may be (1) Personal messages: While a certain amount of personal material may be acceptable, abuse of the system can lead to disciplinary action and even dismissal. All agencies should have an appropriate use policy that determines the amount of personal messages acceptable on the system. (2) SPAM is the term for electronic junk mail. It is completely unsolicited and unwanted. It can be offensive in nature, can carry viruses and is sent as a way of disrupting normal business operations. (3) Unsolicited messages are email that may be unwanted, but is somewhat business-related such as advertising from vendors and non-work related email from coworkers such as jokes and forwards, miscellaneous news articles, non-work related announcements, etc.
	Retention and Disposition	Destroy all nonbusiness related records and delete all nonbusiness related email as soon as possible.

Series	Records Title and Description	Function and Use
L6815	Maps (V)	This record series documents maps, intended for public distribution, which consist of images and/or data plotted to show geographic points at which various objects, incidents or phenomena occur across the local overage. Examples of these include roads, parcels, infrastructure, boundaries, zones and districts, topographical or geological features, recreational trails, or cemeteries in the coverage area (city, county, region). These maps may be maintained in paper or in electronic format. Electronic maps consist of static images or dynamic packages produced by a Geographic Information System (GIS). These GIS databases may be unique to one local agency or developed and maintained through a cooperative effort of several agencies (public and private) across a city, county, or region. In these cooperative systems various entities feed data into layers that are linked to detailed attribute information or descriptions stored in a database. The GIS software access this integrated graphic and attribute information to support all mapping, geographic query, and analysis applications. (for more detailed information about GIS databases, see attachment.) Some of this data may be shared or made available through Internet mapping applications on the local level and the KYGEONET, the Commonwealth's enterprise geographic information system. (The KYGEONET is described in Series 05431, scheduled under the Division of Geographic Information.) Access Restrictions None Contents This record series may contain: Surveys, plats, maps, plans, drawing, and images. GIS databases contain: spatial coordinates, plotted images and/or other data. Large GIS databases may contain raster data (images) and vector data (plotted points) in various layers organized into categories such as: Parcel, Centerline, Aerial, Building, Critical Infrastructure (water/sewer), Topology/LiDAR, Drainage, Zoning, and Voting Precincts. GIS databases will also contain appropriate metadata. Retention and Disposition Agencies should capture one (1) copy (paper or digital) of static maps. Retain permanently. Duplicate copies and copies made for internal reference may be destroyed when no longer needed. Agencies should take periodic snapshots of GIS data. To help determine rate and methods of capture, please contact KDLA Archives and Records Management Division staff.

L6892	The Employment Eligibility Verification Form I-9	The Employment Eligibility Verification Form I-9 is a U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services form. It is used by an employer to verify an employee's identity and to establish that the worker is eligible to accept employment in the United States. Form I-9 is used for verifying the identity and employment authorization of individuals hired for employment in the United States. All U.S. employers must ensure proper completion of Form I-9 for each individual they hire for employment in the United States. This includes citizens and noncitizens. Both employees and employers (or authorized representatives of the employer) must complete the form. On the form, an employee must attest to his or her employment authorization. The employee must also present his or her employer with acceptable documents evidencing identity and employment authorization. The employer must examine the employment eligibility and identity document(s) an employee presents to determine whether the document(s) reasonably appear to be genuine and to relate to the employee and record the document information on the Form I-9. The list of acceptable documents can be found on the last page of the form. Employers must retain Form I-9 for a designated period and make it available for inspection by authorized government officers.
